

Burgess supplementary figure legend

Fig. S1. Amino acid sequences of cynomolgus monkey and rabbit HGF were determined and aligned with human and mouse sequences. Residues identical among the four species are shaded; those that differ among species are not shaded. The boxed human HGF sequences represent the N-terminal region of the peptides protected by AMG 102 from trypsin proteolysis.